

Question 1: The Program Evaluation and Review Technique (PERT) is especially useful in scheduling _____

- projects
- programs
- planning
- processes

Question 2: The process of collaborative goal setting by a manager and subordinate; the extent to which goals are accomplished is a major factor in evaluating and rewarding the subordinates performance. It is called:

- Management by objective
- Management by resources
- Management by authority
- Management by system

Question 3: _____ is concerned specifically with the actions of people at work

- Organizational Behavior
- Cognitive component
- Personality
- None

Question 4: Which of the following is NOT one of the situational factors thought to influence the relationship between leader behavior and subordinate motivation to perform in the path-goal theory?

- Preferences of the leader
- Subordinate locus of control
- Characteristics of the work group
- Task structure

Question 5: Which level of management is responsible for making organization wide decisions and establishing the plans and goals that affect the entire organization?

- Non managerial staff
- Top management
- Middle management
- First-line management

Question 6: The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator assesses preferences for decision making as _____.

agreeable or disagreeable